BLOODY FIGHTING BREAKS OUT IN GERMANY

SEPARATIST HEAD LYNCHED AND 20 BURNED BY A MOB

INFURIATED GERMAN LOYALISTS
ATTACK IN BAVARIAN
PALATINATE

GROUP OF SCHWAB'S FOLLOWERS BURNED TO DEATH IN THE CITY HALL

(By United Press)

Berlin, Feb. 13.—Bloody fighting has broken out between separatists and Germans loyal to the Reich in Pirmasens, Bavarian palatinate, according to dispatches here today.

Herr Schwab, separatist leader, was lynched by a mob of infuriated loyal Germans.

Twenty of Schwab's followers were burned to death in the city hall.

Dispatches received here up to noon said a total of 49 were known to be dead at that hour.

The separatists had 28 killed and the citizens 21. The separatists had taken refuge in the building which was stoned by the loyal Germans and set on fire.

A maddened group of infuriated citizens continued to hunt down separatists throughout Pirmasens today. Whenever ferreted out, the separatists were killed or badly beaten.

The trouble began late yesterday when citizens of Pirmasens, reinforced by the fire department, started a concerted attack upon the separatists. Provided with the principal supplies of ammunition, the separatists rallied and fired heavy volleys wounding many of the attackers who were armed with rifles, picks, shovels and axes.

The separatists barricaded themselves in the city hall. They held off the attackers until the citizens raised heavy reinforcements with the city guard and renewed the attack.

Firemen flung ladders against the city hall and climbed up in the face of the separatist fire. The attackers could make little progress against the almost insurmountable position of the separatists. Then they set fire to the entire building. As the dense smoke cloud settled smotheringly through the building, many of the separatists fled from the death trap, but 20 remained inside and were burned to death.

While the separatist funeral pyre that had been a city hall was still burning, the mob, now mad with blood lust, started a city wide search for separatists routing them out of beds, subjecting them to severe punishment or death where found.

Local reports from Pirmasens stated Schwab, after being beaten severely, died in the flames. Evidently Schwab, after being beaten, rushed with his followers to the city hall, where they were prevented from escaping by the mob, and died.

The citizens, who had three killed and 20 wounded, soaked the floors of the hall with benzine to start the fire. Agonized appeals for mercy came from the trapped separatists as the flames surrounded them. Desperate hand to hand fighting in the midst of the flames ensued.

FIGHTING REPORTED IN ANOTHER TOWN

Berlin, Feb. 13.—A dispatch late this afternoon said fighting between loyal citizens and separatists also had broken out in Kaiserstautern.

Many were reported wounded on both sides.

French Moroccans advanced to protect French delegates.

Coblenz, Feb. 13.—The inter-allied commission has sent two companies of infantry to restore order in Pirmasens.

A state of siege has been declared in the city and vicinity. Advances here said German nationalists attacked the separatists, later setting fire to the city hall and that 14 persons were dead, including 8 separatists.

GOV. BRYAN WANTS LOW PRICED GAS

NEBRASKAN SAYS REFUSAL MAY CAUSE NATIONALIZATION OF OIL INDUSTRY

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 13.—"Lower the price of gasoline or we'll fight to nationalize the oil industry," was the ultimatum delivered today by Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska. In an interview with the United Press.

The militant governor who smashed down coal prices in Nebraska by purchasing huge quantities of fuel and selling it to the people at cost, charges the existence of a nationwide conspiracy to gouge the public by pushing up the prices of oil to "unreasonable heights."

Bryan joined Governor W. H. McMaster in a campaign against what they termed a "nation wide oil trust composed of the Standard Oil company, independent concerns and allied interests."

"We are going to bust this trust wide open," Bryan declared. "Prices are increasing at will. Last week's increase was unjust, the public is being robbed of millions of dollars and Nebraskans are going to have protection."

Both governors have appealed to President Coolidge for federal action.

IOWA LEGISLATURE ASKS INVESTIGATION

Washington, Feb. 13.—With the presentation to the house of formal majority and minority reports on the administration tax reduction bill, it was made clear from the White House that President Coolidge is making no promises against wielding the veto if the bill, after passing through the congressional treadmill, does not come up to his expectations.

Skirmishing has already begun to line up votes for or against compromise surtax proposals which the president has repeatedly indicated are not to his liking, and will not, in his opinion, bring about genuine effective tax reduction.

G. O. P. Leaders Hopeful of Victory
Republican leaders believe they will be able to get the administration bill through satisfactorily at least without changes in the Mellon surtax proposals which would be too radical for the president to support.

The president is against compromise they say, but liberally inclined unless congress makes the surtaxes in the higher brackets so high as to defeat the end sought by the administration. Surtax rates that are not materially lower than existing rates are certain to be unsatisfactory to the president.

C. Bascom Slem, in a letter today to Representative M. L. Davey (dem., Ohio,) answering an inquiry as to reports that the president would veto the bill unless the surtax is reduced to 25 per cent, said:

"All the president's discussions of the subject have indicated that he is disposed to a liberal attitude, recognizing that legislation is made in congress and not at the White House, and that the function of the White House is in approving or disapproving is not required to be performed, until after that of congress has been performed."

CAMEL LIVED HERE 500,000 YEARS AGO

(By United Press)

Seattle, Feb. 13.—Animals peculiar to Asia at this day once had their home in the northwest, according to Marcus A. Hanna, instructor in geology at the University of Washington.

An exploring party recently found bones believed to have come from a leg of a camel and seemingly 500,000 years old, near Wenatchee, Wash.

"There is nothing unusual in that," Hanna said. "The camel was an American beast, and inhabited this continent for thousands of years before he emigrated to Asia by way of the Bering Strait."

Hanna declared that remains found in North America and particularly in the northwest, have long established the fact that the horse, the llama and the camel are all of the same ancestry.

INTERNATIONAL TINGE TO THE OIL INVESTIGATION

RESOLUTION OF SENATOR DILL, WASHINGTON, ADOPTED BY THE SENATE

AIMED AT HARRY F. SINCLAIR,
RECENTLY MAKING LEASES
IN PERSIA, ETC.

Congress Today By United Press

Senate: Interior department appropriation bill comes before senate and displaces the Teapot Dome matter.

Public lands committee continues naval oil reserve investigation.

Agricultural committee meets on farm relief.

House: Routine business. Alameda base hearing before naval affairs committee.

Secretary Hoover appears before foreign affairs committee on farm relief.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate today brought on its oil investigation to cover international dealings of big American oil interests.

The resolution of Senator Dill, Washington, was adopted calling on the state department for information concerning international activities of American oil men. It is aimed particularly at Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of the Teapot Dome who recently made oil leases in Persia and who is reported to have been negotiating with German and Russian interests and Edward L. Doheny who has Mexican oil.

Simultaneously, Senator Wheeler, Montana, democrat, introduced a revised resolution calling for investigation of the activities of Attorney General Daugherty in connection with the oil leases, war fraud prosecutions and other matters.

This was a substitute for the original Wheeler resolution expressing the sense of the senate that Daugherty should resign.

Dill's resolution covers the entire world. It requires the state department to submit all correspondence in its files relating to oil.

Dill wants to find out, he said, how much of our foreign policy is oil policy.

In a statement today commenting on President Coolidge's stand on the Denby ouster resolution, Senator Robinson said:

"Retention in office of Secretary Denby means that the president for all practical purposes supports the secretary's policies and approves or acquiesces in his actions."

"Notwithstanding his defiant statement, it is distinctively suggested that the president soon may be forced by public opinion to turn out of office everyone, including Secretary Denby, who encouraged or participated in the making of the oil leases," said Robinson, discussing the matter.

ASKS EXAMINING INTO $550,000 SALE OF PAPER

FRANK A. VANDERLIP SPEAKS
AT OSSINING, N. Y., ROTARY CLUB

REFERS TO 2 POOR YOUNG MEN BUYING MARION STAR FOR THAT AMOUNT

(By United Press)

New York, Feb. 13.—Frank A. Vanderlip today indirectly suggested an investigation into the conditions of sale of "a certain Marion newspaper which sold for $550,000 when it was well known to everyone it was not worth that sum."

Speaking before the Rotary club at Ossining, N. Y., Vanderlip startled his audience first into silence and then into murmurs of suppressed excitement and finally cheers when he continued:

"Two young men of no financial standing purchased that paper (President Harding sold his Marion Star for approximately the sum mentioned by Vanderlip shortly before his death.) Everybody in Washington knows about this, but no one wants to look under the edge of a shroud."

"Where did the money come from? Where did it go to? These are matters of public interest."

"MARION STAR IS NOT MIXED WITH TEAPOT DOME"

Marion, Ohio, Feb. 13.—Roy D. Moore, owner and general manager of the Marion Star today issued this statement:

"I hesitate to dignify Mr. Vanderlip's Ossining speech, which apparently implied the sale of the Marion Star with the Teapot Dome scandal, with a denial."

"If Mr. Vanderlip were a newspaper man he would edit his copy and watch facts more carefully. If the Teapot Dome bunch could have manipulated the purchase of the Star for $550,000 which was not the price paid for it, they would have found it a very good bargain, but they did not buy it. The controlling interest of the Star was bought by Louis H. Brush and myself as individuals, the Harding estate still holding a large stock interest in the company."

"Had Mr. Vanderlip taken the trouble to consult the probate court of Marion county and ascertain facts, he would not have made himself so utterly ridiculous."

"If all the Teapot Dome scandal is based on such information as Mr. Vanderlip's Ossining speech, it should be very encouraging to the American public."

VANDERLIP WANTS CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE

New York, Feb. 13.—Congressional investigation to clear President Harding's good name of Washington rumors regarding the sale of his newspaper, the Marion Star, was urged today by Frank A. Vanderlip, in an interview with newspaper men at his office here.

Vanderlip thus explained his speech on the subject uttered last night before the Rotary club during a banquet at Briar Cliff Lodge.

He disclaimed any personal knowledge of the facts in the kettle of Washington gossip, but added "this gossip outrages the name of the dead president and should be cleared up."

Vanderlip emphasized that all he knew about the sale of the Marion Star was "that it was sold for over $550,000 when it was not worth half of that" and therefore that President Harding's name is "floating around in the kettle of scandal simmering at Washington."

"FAT LITTLE MAN CURSED TERRIBLY"

HE ENGINEERED JEWEL ROB-
BERY FROM HIGH PRIESTESS
OF SHIMMY

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Three bandits, one of them a "fat little man who cursed terribly" were hunted by police today for taking jewels valued up to $150,000 and $2,000 in cash from Gilda Gray, high priestess of the shimmy.

Included in the loot was a $300 powder puff. Just before midnight last night as Gilda entered the hallway of her apartment three men seized her. She told police one pushed a revolver against her side.

"A fat little man" pushed a black jack against her face, "cursed horribly and gnashed his teeth," and threatened death if Gilda as much as whispered.

The third bandit kept the elevator man under point of revolver. They took a diamond studded bar valued at $6,000, a pin with eight diamonds valued at $1,000, seven bracelets valued at $5,000, a diamond ring valued at $5,000, a bracelet with three rows of diamonds costing $5,000, a $2,000 sapphire bracelet, a diamond and sapphire bracelet valued at $3,200, an emerald bracelet worth $3,100 and three diamond rings valued at $10,000.

The latter included a $4,000 wedding ring. Then they took her handbag valued at $300, containing one $500 bill, 14 $100 bills and some smaller currency. The bandits took everything and then ripped open Gilda's fur coat and felt for other valuables.

Gilda's report to the police placed a value of $150,000 on the jewels, but later police said the loot was probably worth one-third that much. Gilda explained that the only reason she had all the jewelry with her was because she used most of it on the stage.

The victim told police she valued the jewelry at $150,000 although her detailed description totaled a little over $40,000.

BALD EAGLE CAPTURED BY NEW YORK MAN

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 13.—While hunting rabbits, Guy Taylor of the hamlet of Brier Hill found a full grown bald eagle with a broken wing. He carried the great bird home in his coat and set the wing. The eagle promptly broke the wing again, but the second time it was set permitted the splints to stay on.

The eagle is being kept in a grain bin and fed upon raw meat. Its body is larger than that of a cock turkey and it has a great spread of wings. It hisses and snaps viciously at any one coming near it. Its mate flies for hours high over the barn in which is the wounded bird. As soon as the eagle's wing is healed it will be released, it being too fierce to keep.

purchased that newspaper from the late President Harding, told the United Press today he had received numerous inquiries from New York regarding reported complications in a speech delivered by Frank A. Vanderlip regarding sale of that property.

"I am considering the matter now," he said, "and may issue a statement later in the day."

BRITISH FINANCIERS ADVANCE
SIMILAR LOAN FOR 25,000,000
POUNDS STERLING

(By United Press)

New York, Feb. 13.—A $150,000,000 loan, one of the greatest ever in a record peace time international financial issue, has just been completed between the Japanese government and a group of American financiers, headed by J. P. Morgan.

The transaction completed at the Morgan home Monday night, means that Japanese government bonds in this sum will be floated in the United States and certain European continental countries.

The money advanced to Japan will for the most part return to the United States through direct channels constituting an assured business stimulus during the present year.

Simultaneously with the completion of the loan transaction in New York, a similar loan of 25,000,000 pounds sterling was arranged by a British group of financiers.

The combined loan will serve to repair completely the damage wrought by the earthquakes in 1923 which devastated Tokyo, Yokohama and other cities, and to wipe out standing external obligations.

Under the conditions of the loan a program of Japan's expenditures for her reconstruction program will be made in the United States, assuring benefit to the country's lumber trade and steel and other industries are expected to profit likewise.

An interesting feature of the transaction is that the United States receives a larger share of the business than England, which before the war, always had what appeared to be a first call on any international business.

FLOWERS HELD SHAPE FOR 33 CENTURIES

Luxor, Feb. 13.—A pathetic little wreath of flowers was crumbling into gray discolored dust today beside the gold and glory of the gorgeous mummy case that contains the body of Egypt's once most pompous Pharaoh, Tutankhamen.

These flowers were fresh and fragrant 33 centuries ago when they were placed upon the golden jeweled headpiece of the monarch as a final tribute, it is believed of his wife, Queen Ankhesenamun.

Scenes on the painted casket walls done in the weird unrelieved lines of ancient Egyptian art tell of the affection of this beautiful queen for her great lord. Her simple flowers, until exposed to the outer air, persisted in a tribute to the ancient king as defiant of time as the wealth of gold and jewelry that was in the tomb.

If the Teapot Dome bunch could have manipulated the purchase of the Star for $550,000 which was not the price paid for it, they would have found it a very good bargain, but they did not buy it. The controlling interest of the Star was bought by Louis H. Brush and myself as individuals, the Harding estate still holding a large stock interest in the company."

"Had Mr. Vanderlip taken the trouble to consult the probate court of Marion county and ascertain facts, he would not have made himself so utterly ridiculous."

"If all the Teapot Dome scandal is based on such information as Mr. Vanderlip's Ossining speech, it should be very encouraging to the American public."

VANDERLIP WANTS CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE

New York, Feb. 13.—Congressional investigation to clear President Harding's good name of Washington rumors regarding the sale of his newspaper, the Marion Star, was urged today by Frank A. Vanderlip, in an interview with newspaper men at his office here.

Vanderlip thus explained his speech on the subject uttered last night before the Rotary club during a banquet at Briar Cliff Lodge.

He disclaimed any personal knowledge of the facts in the kettle of Washington gossip, but added "this gossip outrages the name of the dead president and should be cleared up."

Vanderlip emphasized that all he knew about the sale of the Marion Star was "that it was sold for over $550,000 when it was not worth half of that" and therefore that President Harding's name is "floating around in the kettle of scandal simmering at Washington."

"FAT LITTLE MAN CURSED TERRIBLY"

HE ENGINEERED JEWEL ROB-
BERY FROM HIGH PRIESTESS
OF SHIMMY

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Three bandits, one of them a "fat little man who cursed terribly" were hunted by police today for taking jewels valued up to $150,000 and $2,000 in cash from Gilda Gray, high priestess of the shimmy.

Included in the loot was a $300 powder puff.

Just before midnight last night as Gilda entered the hallway of her apartment three men seized her. She told police one pushed a revolver against her side.

"A fat little man" pushed a black jack against her face, "cursed horribly and gnashed his teeth," and threatened death if Gilda as much as whispered.

The third bandit kept the elevator man under point of revolver. They took a diamond studded bar valued at $6,000, a pin with eight diamonds valued at $1,000, seven bracelets valued at $5,000, a diamond ring valued at $5,000, a bracelet with three rows of diamonds costing $5,000, a $2,500 sapphire bracelet, a diamond and sapphire bracelet valued at $3,200, an emerald bracelet worth $3,100 and three diamond rings valued at $10,000.

The latter included a $4,000 wedding ring.

Then they took her handbag valued at $300, containing one $500 bill, 14 $100 bills and some smaller currency. The bandits took everything and then ripped open Gilda's fur coat and felt for other valuables.

Gilda's report to the police placed a value of $150,000 on the jewels, but later police said the loot was probably worth one-third that much.

Gilda explained that the only reason she had all the jewelry with her was because she used most of it on the stage.

The victim told police she valued the jewelry at $150,000 although her detailed description totaled a little over $40,000.

BALD EAGLE CAPTURED BY NEW YORK MAN

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Feb. 13.—While hunting rabbits, Guy Taylor of the hamlet of Briar Hill found a full grown bald eagle with a broken wing. He carried the great bird home in his coat and set the wing. The eagle promptly broke the wing again, but the second time it was set, it was permitted to stay on.

The eagle is being kept in a grain bin and fed upon raw meat. Its body is larger than that of a cock turkey and it has a great spread of wings. It hisses and snaps viciously at any one coming near it. Its mate flies for hours high over the barn in which is the wounded bird.

As soon as the eagle's wing is healed it will be released, it being too fierce to keep.

purchased that newspaper from the late President Harding, told the United Press today he had received numerous inquiries from New York regarding reported complications in a speech delivered by Frank A. Vanderlip regarding sale of that property.

"I am considering the matter now," he said, "and may issue a statement later in the day."

J. P. MORGAN HEADS THE GROUP OF UNITED STATES FINANCIERS

MONEY ADVANCED WILL FIND
WAY BACK TO AMERICA IN CHANNELS OF TRADE

BRITISH FINANCIERS ADVANCE
SIMILAR LOAN FOR 25,000,000
POUNDS STERLING

(By United Press)
New York, Feb. 13.—A $150,000,000 loan, one of the greatest ever in a record peace time international financial issue, has just been completed between the Japanese government and a group of American financiers, headed by J. P. Morgan.

The transaction completed at the Morgan home Monday night, means that Japanese government bonds in this sum will be floated in the United States and certain European continental countries.

The money advanced to Japan will for the most part return to the United States through direct channels constituting an assured business stimulus during the present year.

Simultaneously with the completion of the loan transaction in New York, a similar loan of 25,000,000 pounds sterling was arranged by a British group of financiers.

The combined loan will serve to repair completely the damage wrought by the earthquakes in 1923 which devastated Tokio, Yokohama and other cities, and to wipe out standing external obligations.

Under the conditions of the loan a program of Japan's expenditures for her reconstruction program will be made in the United States, assuring benefit to the country's lumber trade and steel and other industries are expected to profit likewise.

An interesting feature of the transaction is that the United States receives a larger share of the business than England, which before the war, always had what appeared to be a first call on any international business.

TOMB OF KING TUT MAY BE CLOSED

CLAIMED CARTER MAY DISCON-
TINUE BECAUSE OF RESTRICTIONS IMPOSED

(By United Press)
London, Feb. 13.—A Central News dispatch from Luxor declares that Howard Carter, head of the expedition digging in the tombs of the Pharaohs, has announced he is closing the tomb of Tutankhamen and discontinuing his scientific researches owing to the Egyptian government's discourtesy and restrictions.

FLOWERS HELD SHAPE FOR 33 CENTURIES

Luxor, Feb. 13.—A pathetic little wreath of flowers was crumbling into gray discolored dust today beside the gold and glory of the gorgeous mummy case that contains the body of Egypt's once most pompous Pharaoh, Tutankhamen.

These flowers were fresh and fragrant 33 centuries ago when they were placed upon the golden jeweled headpiece of the monarch as a final tribute, it is believed of his wife, Queen Ankhesenamun.

Scenes on the painted casket walls done in the weird unrelieved lines of ancient Egyptian art tell of the affection of this beautiful queen for her great lord. Her simple flowers, until exposed to the outer air, persisted in a tribute to the ancient king as defiant of time as the wealth of gold and jewelry that was in the tomb.

KING TUT AS A HEADLINER

THE ability of King Tutankhamen, though dead several thousand years, to draw a seven column headline yesterday from the Minneapolis Journal, front page position, exemplifies his drawing power in the news world, successfully competing with Teapot Dome, reparations, the bonus, the surtaxes and Secretary Denby. Such attention would be most pleasing to the old king, if he were still alive, and if his shade is still hovering around Luxor, it will be just as pleasing to his astral body.

The lid of the king's coffin was raised yesterday, revealing the most splendid gilded mummy case ever found in Egypt. The mummy case bears an effigy in relief of the king, wearing the sacred headdress like that of the sphinx, with decorations of pure gold and lapis lazuli. A withered crown of real flowers circled the head.

The finds of the Carter expedition are among the greatest in Egyptian research and exploration. It is 15 months ago since Mr. Carter came upon the stone steps and sealed outer door and each step taken since then, culminating in the opening of the king's sarcophagus, has been fraught with wonderful discoveries. The work of the expedition has been carried on with that reverence and regard for things historical and religious as to gain the admiration and active cooperation of the Egyptian government and people. Science has been invoked to properly catalog and preserve the priceless relics. It is a source of pride to Americans to know that an American has achieved this great step in exploration.

RECONSTRUCTION DAYS OF OLD

PRESENT day writers often refer to the problems of reparations and others which have followed in the wake of reconstruction days since the World war, forgetting that America had just as serious problems and surmounted most of them in the reconstruction days following the Civil war.

The north as well as the south regretted losing Lincoln, just as the reconstruction period was inaugurated. Lincoln had that broad vision, that hearty and active sympathy which would have been invaluable to the south. If Lincoln had had his own way and been permitted to live, the entire reconstruction period following the Civil war would have been quite another feature of our history, Dr. B. J. Cigrand, president of the Flag Day association, said in a Lincoln day address at Chicago:

"Lincoln at no time admitted that the southern states were out of the union, though he contended the people in part of these states were without federal loyalty," Dr. Cigrand declared.

"His speeches and his writings all tended to show that not a single state ever was out of the union. These states were disobedient children—they fought with their sisters and brothers within the home and even attacked their parents, but they never got outside the house.

"When I look upon my country's flag I like to say as Lincoln thought—the stars were never off and that once there, they cannot be removed."

A WONDERFUL SHOT

VERNON LEA BEALE, of Keyser, West Virginia, according to Peter P. Carney, is hailed as the world's greatest juvenile rifle shot. Young Beale, who is in the neighborhood of 15 years, won the championship of the Winchester Junior Rifle corps in 1922 with a perfect score and he repeated in 1923—again with a perfect score.

By a perfect score is meant that he placed 40 shots, from different positions, in the A circle at 50 feet. The A circle is three-eighths inches in diameter. If you think that young Beale isn't quite a shot get one of these targets, put it up in your cellar and see how many times you can hit the center of the bull's eye. The championship match was shot in four positions—kneeling, standing, prone and sitting, 10 shots in each position and at a target that not one of the shooters saw previous to the match. Such shooting forms the bulwark of the nation in case of an invasion. It's shooting as good as the Marines who saw the gray advance in the wheat fields, stopped it and saved France.

MUCH PREPARATORY WORK

MUCH preparatory work has had to be done at the Milford mine and the electric pumps are now operating and lowering the level of water in Foley's pond. Other pumps will soon be working in the shaft. George H. Crosby has stated that every effort will be made to get out all the bodies.

Every precaution will also be taken that the mine is restored to a safe condition so that none of the crew exploring shaft and levels for the victims will be in danger. As stated by County Mine Engineer Swanson unwatering of the mine and actual inspection of shaft and drifts is needed to determine the extent of damage caused by the disaster.

PADDOCK MAY COMPETE IN OLYMPIC GAMES

ALL lovers of sport will be glad to learn that the difficulties between Charles Paddock, California sprint star, and the Amateur Athletic Union are about to be ironed out and there seems assurance that the fleet-footed American will be able to compete in the coming Olympic games.

Paddock said he was just as anxious as ever to be a member of the Olympic team. "I think I can run as well as I ever did," said Paddock, "and I believe my rest from competition makes me a little better than if I had been grinding out races all fall and winter." America needs all the point winners possible if it wishes to stay in the running.

Scout Anniversary Week Editorial

The Boy in Business and Industry
Youths day is here. Never before has our nation given the attention to the physical, mental and spiritual development of her youth that she is giving today.

Citizens are taxing themselves for the sake of youth to an extent unthought of a generation ago.

Bright, sturdy, roundly developed young men are wanted in every business and industry. Their enthusiasm is essential to the progress of the present day business and industrial program.

Those boys who submit themselves to the discipline of Scouting and who complete the Scouting program and know and appreciate what it is to "Be Prepared" are the boys who will have first chance to the best positions of tomorrow.

Nor is it a boys task alone. Parents do not permit boys to select their school program, nor should scouting be left to the boys judgement. If the boy they wish to "Be Prepared" for the big things of life is to meet their expectations they must support the scout worker and encourage the boy to go through the full scout requirements. The boy will then be a credit to his parents and to his nation, and life's efforts will be far more successful in every way.

Tibetan Women Smear Their Faces With Mud

Tibetan women are not particularly prepossessing, but this is in some measure due to the practice of smearing their faces with cutch, nowadays with the object of securing protection from the high winds that blow on the Tibetan plateau. The origin of the custom was, however, quite different.

About 200 years ago, in the reign of the sixth Dalai Lama, that prelate's advisers were greatly shocked and alarmed by his amorous propensities. Being a high incarnate lama, he should have ignored the existence of women. His habit was, however, to go about Lhasa City at night, dallying with the pretty girls he met on his way.

To put a stop to this, the councilors issued orders that every woman should disfigure herself by smearing red earth on her face, and thereby render herself repulsive to the young Dalai Lama. Whether this ruse was successful is not known, but the practice has continued down to the present day.

The headdresses of the women of the wealthier families are usually covered with large seed pearls and are sometimes worth as much as $2,000.

Every Tibetan woman wears suspended round her neck by a string of pearls a "gow," or charm box.

This varies in size from that of a match-box to the dimensions of a folio-sized book, according to the circumstances of the wearer. It is usually coated with gold leaf and studded with precious stones.

These charm boxes are handed down from mother to daughter and, together with the headdress, represent the savings of the family to which the wearer belongs.—Continental edition of London Mail.

Remarkable Demises

The ways in which application forms for insurance are filled up are often more amusing than enlightening, as the British Medical Journal shows in the following selection of examples:

"Mother died in infancy."

"Father went to bed feeling well, and the next morning woke up dead."

"Grandfather died suddenly at the age of 103. Up to this time he bade fair to reach a ripe old age."

"Applicant does not know anything about maternal posterity, except that they died at an advanced age."

"Applicant does not know cause of mother's death, but states that she fully recovered from her last illness."

"Applicant has never been fatally sick."

"Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child."

"Grandfather died from gunshot wound, caused by an arrow shot by an Indian."

"Applicant's fraternal parents died when he was a child."

"Mother's last illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death."—The Christian Advocate.

World's First Clock

In 1309 the first clock known to the world was placed in the tower of San Estorpio, in Milan. In 1344 a clock was installed in the palaces of the nobles at Padua. This was a wonder of mechanism indeed, for, besides indicating the hours, it showed the course of the sun, the revolutions of the planets, the various phases of the moon, the months and the fates of the year.

In 1420 an alarm clock made its appearance. The chroniclers have placed on record that this clock sounded a bell at a stated hour, and at the same time a little wax candle was lighted automatically. How this was done we are not told, but it must not be overlooked that until about a hundred years ago we had no means of obtaining light other than the tinder box.—Detroit News.

Need Sleep for Memory

Insufficient sleep causes impairment of memory, according to recent researches on the subject of sleep by Professors Engelen, Frerichs and Weygandt of Berlin, Germany. The memory becomes unreliable even if the shortage of sleep has occurred for only a short time. Eight hours is the average needed for sleep, but brain workers sometimes require more. A reduced period of slumber may be partly made up for by increased intensity, a short period of deep, undisturbed sleep having the same effect as a longer and lighter one.

The investigators also conclude that brain workers need a month of rest every year and that even longer vacations do not cause a lessening of acquired abilities, but rather an intensification of them.—Kansas City Star.

Probably Would

When a man gives a motor cop a tale of woe, the cop merely says: "Tell it to the judge."

But when a pretty girl gives the cop a dazzling smile, he doesn't advise her to try that on the judge.

He knows it would probably work.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Obliging Dentist

"What? Fifteen million marks to extract a tooth! I have to work an hour to earn that!"

"If you like I will spend an hour in extracting the tooth!"—Meggendorfer Blaetter, Munich.

Placing the Blame

Keen but Nervous Amateur—I say, old chap, what shall I do if they ask me to sing?

Candid Friend—Do? Why, sing, of course—it'll be their own fault!—The Humorist (London).

KING TUT AS A HEADLINER

THE ability of King Tutankhamen, though dead several thousand years, to draw a seven column headline yesterday from the Minneapolis Journal, front page position, exemplifies his drawing power in the news world, successfully competing with Teapot Dome, reparations, the bonus, the surtaxes and Secretary Denby. Such attention would be most pleasing to the old king, if he were still alive, and if his shade is still hovering around Luxor, it will be just as pleasing to his astral body.

The lid of the king's coffin was raised yesterday, revealing the most splendid gilded mummy case ever found in Egypt. The mummy case bears an effigy in relief of the king, wearing the sacred headdress like that of the sphinx, with decorations of pure gold and lapis lazuli. A withered crown of real flowers circled the head.

The finds of the Carter expedition are among the greatest in Egyptian research and exploration. Snow Adds to the Problem Of Providing Telephone Service

After a deep snow, telephone service is often taxed to the utmost. At such times, people have difficulty in getting about town and more than ever rely upon the telephone.

Furthermore, when transportation is more or less tied up after a snow, it is difficult for the telephone operators to get to work promptly.

And heavy snow, if accompanied by wind, frequently tears down poles and wires, shutting off both local and long distance telephone service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

Snow Adds to the Problem Of Providing Telephone Service

After a deep snow, telephone service is often taxed to the utmost. At such times, people have difficulty in getting about town and more than ever rely upon the telephone.

Furthermore, when transportation is more or less tied up after a snow, it is difficult for the telephone operators to get to work promptly.

And heavy snow, if accompanied by wind, frequently tears down poles and wires, shutting off both local and long distance telephone service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

Shoe Manufacturers,
Baffled, Build 'Em
To Suit Everybody

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Shoe manufacturers and dealers, shrewd students of psychology as they are, admit themselves baffled when it comes to predicting what the American family, from father to flapper daughter, and infant son, will wear on its feet from year to year.

At the 13th annual convention of the National Shoe Retailers association here, the solution to the enigma is evident. The manufacturers took every kind of leather and made it into every kind of shoe, and the retailers will sell them.

"The woman and girl this year will wear anything that's pretty," declared Norman P. Merrill, representing an eastern manufacturer. His booth, one of about 400 at the big show, was a riot of reds, blues, greens and browns in all their shades.

The college lad who started the fad of wearing Oxfords the year round started something, declared Wallace A. Taylor, sales manager of a Chicago shoe firm. The low shoe idea, which was popularized almost overnight, is the bane of the shoemaker's existence. It has made the old high shoe obsolete.

KANSAS MAN GIVES UP BUSINESS TO BECOME EVANGELIST

(By United Press)

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Saving souls is better than making money. C. E. Putnam, former Kansas financier, believes.

Putnam has abandoned six thriving enterprises to become an evangelist for the extension department of Moody Bible Institute here.

He was born at Richmond, Kansas, and started his career as a school teacher. A yearning for a business career made a rancher of him and he acquired a 1,400 acre live stock farm. Putnam next went into the lumber business. That also was a success. He was piling up a fortune as a lumber dealer, building contractor, jeweler, hardware merchant and rancher when he decided on a religious career.

As a young man he had read writings of Ingersoll and Paine. The more he read the stronger were his doubts and beliefs. He became a student of the Bible and made biblical statistics his hobby. Now, he asserts, he has "evidence" that the Bible was divinely inspired and is presenting it in evangelistic form throughout the country.

Putnam declared the Bible made 3,000 promises which have been fulfilled. This would have been impossible unless the scriptures were conceived by a great power, he believes.

STONEWALL JACKSON
NEXT FIGURE ON STONE MOUNTAIN

(By United Press)

Atlanta, Feb. 12.—The head of Stonewall Jackson will be the next figure completed in the gigantic panorama of the "Lost Cause" on Stone Mountain here.

Gutzon Borglum, sculptor, who is directing the carving of the massive memorial in the huge granite rock, has started work on the second figure and hopes to have it completed by early summer.

The head of General Robert E. Lee already has been completed as the first step in the panorama.

"I shall now start work on Stonewall Jackson's head," said the sculptor. "The first work will be to free the head by removing granite around the head area. When that is finished I shall work back into Lee's head and give it the final touches, then begin work on the figure of Lee and his horse."

Lee will be mounted on his famous charger "Traveler" by fall, said Borglum.

The head of General Lee which was unveiled with impressive ceremonies on his birthday anniversary, January 19, will not be covered while the remainder of the work is progressing, Borglum said.

Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

To appreciate the full significance of that statement, take 60% of 4,855,739 motor vehicles registered in the ten Middle Western states and you get 2,913,443.

That enormous number of motorists have proved to their complete satisfaction that

Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

is the best lubricant for them to use.

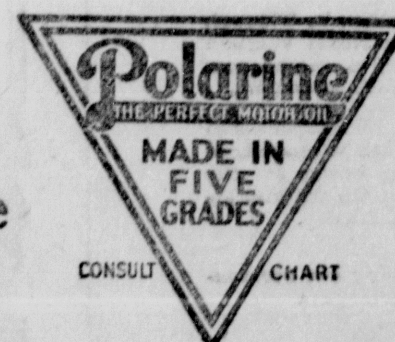

In addition there are tens of thousands of unregistered power driven machines—such as tractors, gasoline engines, etc., that use enormous quantities of Polarine.

You cannot see the quality of oil—you must take someone's else recommendation.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) offers you the recommendation of its board of lubricating engineers displayed in the chart on the left, and also the unspoken endorsement of two and a half million motorists who use Polarine regularly.

Use Polarine. Change your motor oil every 500 miles and refill with the correct grade of fresh Polarine. You will add power and life to your motor.

Sauces You Never Forget

Certain hotels have a country-wide reputation for their wonderful meals. It is usually in the preparation of some famous sauce that a chef gains his reputation. There is hardly a chef of repute who would be without KITCHEN BOUQUET. Try this mushroom sauce:

MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet
4 tablespoons flour
salt, pepper, paprika
4 tablespoons butter
1 cup cream
1 1/2 cups stock
1 dried mushroom, put dry and soaked 15 minutes in stock

Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, cook 2 minutes, add stock with mushrooms and cook 10 minutes, stirring often; add cream, Kitchen Bouquet and seasonings. Bring to boiling point and serve over boiled steak.

Then you will know why chefs regard it as light

KITCHEN BOUQUET

A Snicere Tribute to Jack London's Memory

When Hal Roach purchased the rights to Jack London's great novel, "The Call of the Wild," which will be shown at the New Park for three days, tonight, Thursday and Friday, he pledged himself to make a faithful interpretation of the story. That was assured when he engaged Fred Jackman to direct the story, for there is no sterner stickler for faithfulness on the screen than Jackman.

This pledge Hal Roach places on record, for in his foreword of "The Call of the Wild," a Pathe picture, he opens with the following:

"The producer has endeavored to pay sincere tribute to the memory of Jack London by faithful adherence to the author's story of man's best friend."

IRRIGATION WHEELS USED IN CALIFORNIA

Water Device Used to Irrigate Lands.

In certain portions of northern California there are still sections that can be rendered very fertile only by the addition of water. There are as yet no government reclamation projects in operation in such districts on any great scale and land owners in many cases must rely upon their own resources to improve adequate irrigation facilities. Particularly is this true along one narrow valley near the Klamath river.

Along that stream have been placed a number of "irrigation wheels" that, in the aggregate, furnish an adequate supply of water for all kinds of crops—grains, grasses, orchards, vegetables, etc. Generally, these wheels are about 80 feet in diameter, and are strongly built of wood. Along the outer circumference are placed "float boards" or paddles. The wheel is immersed several yards in the water and the impulse of the current keeps the huge wheel slowly revolving most of the time. Placed at the interval of every few yards on the outside of the wheel are large boxlike metal buckets. These are filled as they dip into the water, are hoisted by the revolving wheel to the top and the contents poured into troughs on each side. These timber water flumes lead into ditches dug along the steep banks of the stream. Many of these ditch flumes are miles in length.

As these wheels run perpetually, great stores of water are thus collected and distributed among the thirsty crops of the ranchers for leagues on both sides of the narrow winding valley.

The only expense of the rancher is the construction of these wheels and the digging of the irrigation ditches. The system furnishes its own power as well as the life-sustaining element at the same time.

British Wit

That British humor can be as exaggerated as that of the typical American gag is proved by the following from a London weekly. A meeting of the district council was in progress to consider a complaint about the muddy state of the roads in the outlying districts. One of the councillors said: "Gentlemen, I was walking by the road in question the other morning when I saw a man's hat on top of the mud. I touched it with my stick and was astonished to hear a man's voice from beneath. 'My friend,' I said, 'it's a bit thick there, isn't it?' 'It ain't 'arf,' came the answer, 'an I'm on the top of the bus!'"

Fireproof

A rich manufacturer of asbestos took a house just across the street from a sweet-spirited old lady, and his family proceeded to enjoy itself in what seemed to her a very worldly fashion. The old lady was never known to speak ill of anyone, even when her neighbors raised a racket all Sunday. She only said: "Dear me! They must have great faith in their asbestos."

According to Hoyle

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center, on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them."

Hiram needed a pair of shoes; so he entered the store, and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Yes."

"Well, give me two pair."

"What size?"

"Number nine."

When the clerk returned with the shoes Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him.

"Two pair of shoes at three dollars is six dollars."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?"

"Yes."

"Well, don't three of a kind take two pairs?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Judge.

Flea-Bitten America

Not being enough of an entomologist to know the designation for a large body of fleas, whether flock, covey, herd, band, or what not, I cannot set down precisely the term for these, in the aggregate, but it is descriptive enough to say that this country of ours, the United States of America, is at present infested with more critical, censorious, propagandist, revolutionary, reformatory, professional, puritanical, cult, quick, political, economic, salvationist, empiricist, intelligentist, visionary, literary, artistic, financial and theological fleas than have ever infested any other country since the dawn of time. That is a considered statement, and made with full knowledge that from the beginning of organized society until now each phase has had its pest of similar fleas.—Samuel G. Blythe, in McNaught's Monthly.

LOST AND FOUND—CALL 74

Snuff Habit Dying

Offer a woman of today a pinch of snuff, and she will be quite as much offended as a Victorian dame by the offer of a cigarette. Yet a century ago the invitation would have been accepted without demur.

In those days the taking of snuff was at once a pleasure and a ceremony. An elaborate ritual surrounded a practice smiled on by the highest in the land. George IV had his King's Morning Mixture and his King's Evening Mixture, his King's Plain and his King's Carole. Queen Charlotte took snuff, so did the Princesses Charlotte and Elizabeth. And for a long time a snuffbox had been the usual gift of the sovereign to those he delighted to honor.

But now—! Only recently it was announced that a snuff mill at Juniper Green, Middlethian, had shut down after more than 200 years of honorable industry "owing to the decline of the snuff habit."—London Answers.

The Way It Felt

Little Johnny, aged six, had been to church, and had displayed more than usual interest in the sermon, in which the origin of Eve had been dwelt on at some length.

On his return from service, there being guests at dinner, he had also displayed a good deal of interest in the eatables, especially the pie and cakes.

Some time afterwards, being missed, he was found sitting quietly in a corner with his hands pressed tightly over his ribs, and an expression of awful anxiety on his face.

"Why, what on earth is the matter?" asked his mother in alarm.

"Mamma, I'm afraid I'm going to have a wife," Little Johnny replied.—Brisbane Mail.

Women the Greatest Buyers in the World

There are 22,000,000 homes in the United States. The women who buy for these homes spend in the average $500 each, or a total of $11,000,000,000, each year. That is more than $36,000,000 every working day. Every year it amounts to half as much as America's Liberty Bond issue.

Each woman is a part of this army of buyers, and each, if she will, may be guided to wise and economical purchases if she will but make up her mind each day to read as many as she can of the advertisements which manufacturers are printing for her benefit.

The advertising in every newspaper and every magazine is a buying guide for this greatest buying force in the world. This advertising makes it safe and easy for every member of this buying army to make her purchases.

It establishes in her mind a buying habit and gives her a preference of one brand of goods to another or an advertised article to one that is unknown.

It identifies for her a certain product as being standard, so that she may easily dodge the wiles of sellers who try to sell something that is not so good.

It fixes merit as an everlasting adjunct to certain articles.

It makes her know that the manufacturer who is proud of his product and jealous of his reputation and character cannot do otherwise than make his product at least as good as he says it is.

More than likely it is better.

Advertising points out where this greatest buyer in all the world's history may find quality goods by showing her pictures of them over and over again which enables her to recognize them easily and quickly.

IRRIGATION WHEELS USED IN CALIFORNIA

Water Device Used to Irrigate Lands.

In certain portions of northern California there are still sections that can be rendered very fertile only by the addition of water. There are as yet no government reclamation projects in operation in such districts on any great scale and land owners in many cases must rely upon their own resources to improvise adequate irrigation facilities. Particularly is this true along one narrow valley near the Klamath river.

Along that stream have been placed a number of "irrigation wheels" that, in the aggregate, furnish an adequate supply of water for all kinds of crops—grains, grasses, orchards, vegetables, etc. Generally, these wheels are about 80 feet in diameter, and are strongly built of wood. Along the outer circumference are placed "float boards" or paddles. The wheel is immersed several yards in the water and the impulse of the current keeps the huge wheel slowly revolving most of the time. Placed at the interval of every few yards on the outside of the wheel are large boxlike metal buckets. These are filled as they dip into the water, are hoisted by the revolving wheel to the top and the contents poured into troughs on each side. These timber water flumes lead into ditches dug along the steep banks of the stream. Many of these ditch flumes are miles in length.

As these wheels run perpetually, great stores of water are thus collected and distributed among the thirsty crops of the ranchers for leagues on both sides of the narrow winding valley.

The only expense of the rancher is the construction of these wheels and the digging of the irrigation ditches. The system furnishes its own power as well as the life-sustaining element at the same time.

British Wit

That British humor can be as exaggerated as that of the typical American gag is proved by the following from a London weekly. A meeting of the district council was in progress to consider a complaint about the muddy state of the roads in the outlying districts. One of the councillors said: "Gentlemen, I was walking by the road in question the other morning when I saw a man's hat on top of the mud. I touched it with my stick and was astonished to hear a man's voice from beneath. 'My friend,' I said, 'it's a bit thick there, isn't it?' 'It ain't at all,' came the answer, 'an I'm on the top of the bus!'"

Fireproof

A rich manufacturer of asbestos took a house just across the street from a sweet-spirited old lady, and his family proceeded to enjoy itself in what seemed to her a very worldly fashion. The old lady was never known to speak ill of anyone, even when her neighbors raised a racket all Sunday. She only said: "Dear me! They must have great faith in their asbestos."

According to Hoyle

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center, on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them."

Hiram needed a pair of shoes; so he entered the store, and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Yes."

"Well, give me two pair."

"What size?"

"Number nine."

When the clerk returned with the shoes Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him.

"Two pair of shoes at three dollars is six dollars."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?"

"Yes."

"Well, don't three of a kind take two pairs?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Judge.

Flea-Bitten America

Not being enough of an entomologist to know the designation for a large body of fleas, whether flock, covey, herd, band, or what not, I cannot set down precisely the term for these, in the aggregate, but it is descriptive enough to say that this country of ours, the United States of America, is at present infested with more critical, censorious, propagandist, revolutionary, reformatory, professional, puritanical, cult, quack, political, economic, salvationist, empiricist, intelligentist, visionary, literary, artistic, financial and theological fleas than have ever infested any other country since the dawn of time. That is a considered statement, and made with full knowledge that from the beginning of organized society until now each phase has had its pest of similar fleas.—Samuel G. Blythe, in McNaught's Monthly.

LOST AND FOUND—CALL 74

Snuff Habit Dying

Offer a woman of today a pinch of snuff, and she will be quite as much offended as a Victorian dame by the offer of a cigarette. Yet a century ago the invitation would have been accepted without demur.

In those days the taking of snuff was at once a pleasure and a ceremony. An elaborate ritual surrounded a practice smiled on by the highest in the land. George IV had his King's Morning Mixture and his King's Evening Mixture, his King's Plain and his King's Carole. Queen Charlotte took snuff, so did the Princesses Charlotte and Elizabeth. And for a long time a snuffbox had been the usual gift of the sovereign to those he delighted to honor.

But now—! Only recently it was announced that a snuff mill at Juniper Green, Midlothian, had shut down after more than 200 years of honorable industry "owing to the decline of the snuff habit."—London Answers.

The Way It Felt

Little Johnny, aged six, had been to church, and had displayed more than usual interest in the sermon, in which the origin of Eve had been dwelt on at some length.

On his return from service, there being guests at dinner, he had also displayed a good deal of interest in the eatables, especially the pie and cakes.

Some time afterwards, being missed, he was found sitting quietly in a corner with his hands pressed tightly over his ribs, and an expression of awful anxiety on his face.

"Why, what on earth is the matter?" asked his mother in alarm.

"Mamma, I'm afraid I'm going to have a wife," little Johnny replied.—Brisbane Mail.

The Likeness

Wife (waxing philosophical)—Just to think, John! First utter drabness, then the working of the sap and finally the gorgeous tree—splendid in its multitude of gold and crimson gowns! How like our lives!

Fed-up Husband—How like, indeed, my dear! You the gorgeous tree and me the sap!

Women the Greatest Buyers in the World

There are 22,000,000 homes in the United States. The women who buy for these homes spend in the average $500 each, or a total of $11,000,000,000, each year. That is more than $36,000,000 every working day. Every year it amounts to half as much as America's Liberty Bond issue.

Each woman is a part of this army of buyers, and each, if she will, may be guided to wise and economical purchases if she will but make up her mind each day to read as many as she can of the advertisements which manufacturers are printing for her benefit.

The advertising in every newspaper and every magazine is a buying guide for this greatest buying force in the world. This advertising makes it safe and easy for every member of this buying army to make her purchases.

It establishes in her mind a buying habit and gives her a preference of one brand of goods to another or an advertised article to one that is unknown.

It identifies for her a certain product as being standard, so that she may easily dodge the wiles of sellers who try to sell something that is not so good.

It fixes merit as an everlasting adjunct to certain articles.

It makes her know that the manufacturer who is proud of his product and jealous of his reputation and character cannot do otherwise than make his product at least as good as he says it is.

More than likely it is better.

Advertising points out where this greatest buyer in all the world's history may find quality goods by showing her pictures of them over and over again which enables her to recognize them easily and quickly.

The advisability of having a dental clinic was discussed and it was decided to ask the dentists to give of their time for a free clinic as they have for the last two years.

The following report was submitted by the City and School Nurse. Owing to the unusual amount of sickness during the month most of the time was spent in making calls and giving bedside care. Five hundred calls were made, in 43 cases bedside care was given, 223 instructive calls were made. Due to the many entertainments around Christmas the measles became very widespread. There were 105 cases among school children, whooping cough 12, chicken pox 8, impetigo 4, scabies 2, mumps 4, and scarlet fever 1.

Poor relief calls made 17 and boys reported to the truant officer 4.

Children taken to the doctors 9, to the hospital 2.

One tuberculosis clinic was held, three patients attended.

Loans made from the Red Cross Loan Closet 4. Meetings attended 7.

Children inspected in classrooms for contagious diseases 375. Ninety individual pupils were inspected and 12 were found to have defective vision, 16 poor teeth, 15 with defective nose or throats, 5 were 10 per cent underweight and 20 per cent were overweight. Three had their eyes examined, eight visited the dentist and three had their throats cared for.

Out of the 95 children vaccinated before Christmas, 84 proved to be successfully vaccinated.

The Lincoln-Washington Parent Teachers decided at their last meeting to provide milk once a day for the underweight children in their school. A list of 40 children seven per cent or more underweight was made out and a committee will call on the parents and explain the plan. The children will be weighed at intervals and their interest aroused to become up to normal weight.

ALFRED DILLAN IS Y SECRETARY

Succeeded D. T. Lawrence Who Resigned Last July, Young Man Well Known Here

HAS HAD "Y" EXPERIENCE

Was Connected Two Years as Student Officer With Such Institution at University

Alfred Dillan has been appointed secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and took over his new duties on Monday, succeeding D. T. Lawrence who resigned last July first. Since that time the association has been functioning without a secretarial head.

Mr. Dillan is well known in Brainerd, where he was born and has grown to manhood. He is a young man of exemplary habits and it is felt will fill his new position with much credit to himself and to association.

The new secretary is a graduate of the local high school and of the academic college of the Minnesota state university, completing the latter course in 1922.

The last two years of his university work he was connected with the Y. M. C. A. of that institution as a student officer, and was assistant secretary during the year following his graduation, so that he comes to his new post well equipped to take over the work in Brainerd and with the hearty assistance of local citizens carry it forward very successfully.

Mr. Dillan is very enthusiastic over the prospects of his new position. He has already started an athletic program among the younger boys from 12 to 15 years of age, in a junior class. It is his intention to meet with these boys three times each week, after school, with occasional meetings of a semi-social nature.

He hopes to organize the older boys of high school age, both for athletic, educational and social purposes, as soon as a program can be mapped out and the young fellows interested in the work.

The directors of the "Y" have ordered several pocket billiard tables which have arrived and will be installed this week, and several other pieces of equipment are planned, to bring the organization up to the desired standard of efficiency.

THE LATE CHARLES RODIN

On Saturday, February 2nd, the shadow of death passed over another home in the community, when after a lingering illness, Mr. Charles Rodin passed away. The deceased who was in his forty-fourth year, was born in Sweden. Emigrating to the United States with his parents while he was yet young, he grew to manhood in the State of Minnesota. In September, 1904, he was married to Mary Olson, and one child blessed their union. The family resided at Brainerd until 1910, and at Kokato until they came to Canada in 1912.

Suffering from partial paralysis the deceased had been an invalid in his home here for the past seven years. For the past year being confined almost entirely to his bed. He realized that the end was near, and death came in a peaceful sleep in the early evening.

There is left to mourn his sad demise, a sorrowing wife, his daughter Doris, his mother who resides at Pillager, Minn., four brothers and four sisters. The latter are: Conrad and Henry, of Pillager, Minn.; Gust, in the U. S., and Walter, who resides at Viscount, Sask. The sisters are: Mrs. Nelson, Lignite, N. D.; Marie Rodin, Minneapolis; Esther Rodin and Mrs. Dorsey who resides with the mother at Pillager.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, February 6. Service was held at the late home and at the United church, Viscount, and interment made in the Union cemetery. Rev. Willis G. Hancock officiating. The cortege was under the direction of undertaker, W. J. Nickle and the pallbearers were: Messrs J. A. Henry, E. J. Lindskog, A. E. Hanigan, J. Burr, Jos. Northgraves and Wm. Northgraves.

The funeral was very largely attended by friends from all parts of the community, and the casket was completely banked with the many beautiful floral tokens. As a mark of sympathy for their class-mate, Miss Doris, the High School class with their principal, attended the service at the church.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the sorrowing ones.—Viscount, Sask., Can., Sun.

MUSICAL CLUB RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

All Have Served so Faithfully That Members Were Unanimous in Choice

MRS. A. C. WEBER, PRESIDENT

Review Given of Program of Soprano Selections by Miss Olive Emerson

Saturday the Musical club held its annual election and monthly program. Unanimity reigned supreme—not a dissenting note was heard when the question of officers for the coming year was brought up. All of the officers of the club have served so well and so faithfully that the club cast a unanimous vote that they be asked to guide the club another year. They are:

President—Mrs. A. C. Weber.

1st Vice President—Mrs. R. A. Campbell.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. J. L. Frederick.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. D. C. Gray.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. T. E. Jones.

Treasurer—Mrs. S. Newman.

Assistant Treasurer—Mrs. N. Smith Nelson.

Three directors—Mrs. W. H. Cleary, Mrs. Carl Zapffe, Mrs. F. M. Kelly.

The Junior Musical, under the leadership of Mrs. Burnett, held its first meeting at the home of Margaret Jones.

The program of the day was given by Miss Olive Emerson, soprano. She possesses a sweet voice of wide range and takes the high soprano notes with an ease and surety that relieves you of the fear that sometimes grips you when a soprano ventures too ambitious to rival Galli Curci. With the voice she has a personality that interprets the moods of the composer from the light and airy theme of some of her songs to the haunting tenderness of others.

Saturday she sang five groups of varied themes and tongues and styles. They were all well done and much appreciated. Especially liked were "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," the aria from La Boheme and the song from Thais and the two scores she so generously gave. These were "O Mr. Piper, Won't You Play For Me," and "Heartsease" entirely different in mood and interpretation.

In La Boheme, she showed depth of feeling and brought out the minor tones. In some of her foreign songs, she showed such varying moods that the audience comprehended them despite the handicap of the language. If a suggestion might be made, it would be that singers would give far greater pleasure if they would explain the theme of a song before they sing it, as most people are not familiar with foreign tongues.

Much of the appreciation given Miss Poppe is due to her charming explanations of her selections, which put the audience in a state of mind where they get the meaning instead of groping blindly for the theme. It is only the fortunate few who are sufficiently trained along musical lines to understand all the movements without interpretation.

The accompaniments to some of the songs were unusually interesting, and all of their charm was brought out most effectively by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

Minneapolis Naturalist Brings Message to Boy Scout Leadership Classes

STEREOPTICON SLIDES SHOWN

Trees, Bird Study, Wild Animal Life Shown by Recognized Authority

B. H. Truman, naturalist, of Minneapolis, brought to the men's class in Boy Scout leadership, an instructive and entertaining illustrated lecture, "On Nature's Trail" at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Stereopticon slides were shown, the majority of which were from photographs taken by Mr. Truman, depicting animal and vegetable life that is found in this section of Minnesota.

The first section was devoted to trees, the different kinds, where they are to be found, their history, the legends about them, and their commercial value.

The second section took up bird study with the pictures of song birds, game birds and waterfowl, their habits, and their value to mankind, especially to the farmers.

The last section dealt with wild animal life, from the chipmunk to the fox, showing the animals that should be protected and those that should be exterminated.

Mr. Truman is a recognized authority on nature subjects. He came to Minnesota as a young man, and has spent over thirty years studying nature in this state. He has prepared a very complete collection of stereopticon slides for the Minneapolis public library, which is valued very highly by that institution, and it was from this collection that the slides were taken for showing in Brainerd.

Next week the scout executive of St. Paul will address the class, bringing an important message to every man in the city, and it is hoped that there will be a large number turn out to meet him.

Was Connected Two Years as Student Officer With Such Institution at University

Alfred Dillan has been appointed secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and took over his new duties on Monday, succeeding D. T. Lawrence who resigned last July first. Since that time the association has been functioning without a secretarial head.

Mr. Dillan is well known in Brainerd, where he was born and has grown to manhood. He is a young man of exemplary habits and it is felt will fill his new position with much credit to himself and to association.

The new secretary is a graduate of the local high school and of the academic college of the Minnesota state university, completing the latter course in 1922.

The last two years of his university work he was connected with the Y. M. C. A. of that institution as a student officer, and was assistant secretary during the year following his graduation, so that he comes to his new post well equipped to take over the work in Brainerd and with the hearty assistance of local citizens carry it forward very successfully.

Mr. Dillan is very enthusiastic over the prospects of his new position. He has already started an athletic program among the younger boys from 12 to 15 years of age, in a junior class. It is his intention to meet with these boys three times each week, after school, with occasional meetings of a semi-social nature.

He hopes to organize the older boys of high school age, both for athletic, educational and social purposes, as soon as a program can be mapped out and the young fellows interested in the work.

The directors of the "Y" have ordered several pocket billiard tables which have arrived and will be installed this week, and several other pieces of equipment are planned, to bring the organization up to the desired standard of efficiency.

THE LATE CHARLES RODIN

On Saturday, February 2nd, the shadow of death passed over another home in the community, when after a lingering illness, Mr. Charles Rodin passed away. The deceased who was in his forty-fourth year, was born in Sweden. Emigrating to the United States with his parents while he was yet young, he grew to manhood in the State of Minnesota. In September, 1904, he was married to Mary Olson, and one child blessed their union. The family resided at Brainerd until 1910, and at Cokato until they came to Canada in 1912.

Suffering from partial paralysis the deceased had been an invalid in his home here for the past seven years. For the past year being confined almost entirely to his bed. He realized that the end was near, and death came in a peaceful sleep in the early evening.

There is left to mourn his sad demise, a sorrowing wife, his daughter Doris, his mother who resides at Pillager, Minn., four brothers and four sisters. The latter are: Conrad and Henry, of Pillager, Minn.; Gust, in the U. S., and Walter, who resides at Viscount, Sask. The sisters are: Mrs. Nelson, Lignite, N. D.; Marie Rodin, Minneapolis; Esther Rodin and Mrs. Dorsey who resides with the mother at Pillager.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, February 6. Service was held at the late home and at the United church, Viscount, and interment made in the Union cemetery, Rev. Willis G. Hancock officiating. The cortege was under the direction of undertaker, W. J. Nickle and the pallbearers were: Messrs J. A. Henry, E. J. Lindsog, A. E. Hannigan, J. Burr, Jos. Northgraves and Wm. Northgraves.

The funeral was very largely attended by friends from all parts of the community, and the casket was completely banked with the many beautiful floral tokens. As a mark of sympathy for their class-mate, Miss Doris, the High School class with their principal, attended the service at the church.

The sympathy of the whole community goes out to the sorrowing ones.—Viscount, Sask., Can., Sun.

MUSICAL CLUB RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

All Have Served so Faithfully That Members Were Unanimous in Choice

MRS. A. C. WEBER, PRESIDENT
Review Given of Program of Soprano Selections by Miss Olive Emerson

Saturday the Musical club held its annual election and monthly program. Unanimity reigned supreme—not a dissenting note was heard when the question of officers for the coming year was brought up. All of the officers of the club have served so well and so faithfully that the club cast a unanimous vote that they be asked to guide the club another year. They are:

President—Mrs. A. C. Weber.

1st Vice President—Mrs. R. A. Campbell.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. J. L. Frederick.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. D. C. Gray.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. T. E. Jones.

Treasurer—Mrs. S. Newman.

Assistant Treasurer—Mrs. N. Smith Nelson.

Three directors—Mrs. W. H. Cleary, Mrs. Carl Zapffe, Mrs. F. M. Kelly.

The Junior Musical, under the leadership of Mrs. Burnett, held its first meeting at the home of Margaret Jones.

The program of the day was given by Miss Olive Emerson, soprano. She possesses a sweet voice of wide range and takes the high soprano notes with an ease and surety that relieves you of the fear that sometimes grips you when a soprano gets too ambitious to rival Galli Curci. With the voice she has a personality that interprets the moods of the composer from the light and airy theme of some of her songs to the haunting tenderness of others.

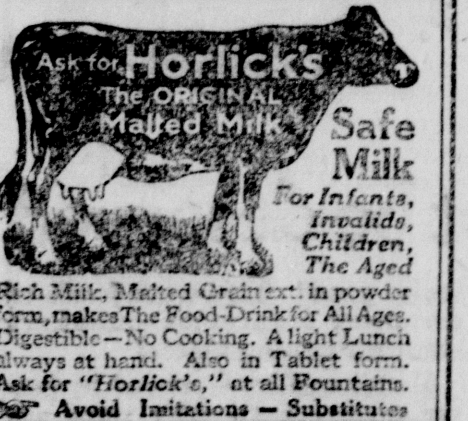

Saturday she sang five groups of varied themes and tongues and styles. They were all well done and much appreciated. Especially liked were "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me," the aria from LaBoheme and the song from Thais and the two songs she so generously gave. These were "O Mr. Piper, Won't You Play For Me," and "Heartsease" entirely different in mood and interpretation. In LaBoheme, she showed depth of feeling and brought out the minor tones. In some of her foreign songs, she showed such varying moods that the audience comprehended them despite the handicap of the language. If a suggestion might be made, it would be that singers would give far greater pleasure if they would explain the theme of a song before they sing it, as most people are not familiar with foreign tongues.

Much of the appreciation given Miss Poppe is due to her charming explanations of her selections, which put the audience in a state of mind where they get the meaning instead of groping blindly for the theme. It is only the fortunate few who are sufficiently trained along musical lines to understand all the movements without interpretation.

The accompaniments to some of the songs were unusually interesting, and all of their charm was brought out most effectively by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

"ON NATURE'S TRAIL" IS TOPIC OF LECTURE

STEREOPTICON SLIDES SHOWN
Trees, Bird Study, Wild Animal Life Shown by Recognized Authority

B. H. Truman, naturalist, of Minneapolis, brought to the men's class in Boy Scout leadership, an instructive and entertaining illustrated lecture, "On Nature's Trail" at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Stereopticon slides were shown, the majority of which were from photographs taken by Mr. Truman, depicting animal and vegetable life that is found in this section of Minnesota.

The first section was devoted to trees, the different kinds, where they are to be found, their history, the legends about them, and their commercial value.

The second section took up bird study with the pictures of song birds, game birds and waterfowl, their habits, and their value to mankind, especially to the farmers.

The last section dealt with wild animal life, from the chipmunk to the fox, showing the animals that should be protected and those that should be exterminated.

Mr. Truman is a recognized authority on nature subjects. He came to Minnesota as a young man, and has spent over thirty years studying nature in this state. He has prepared a very complete collection of stereopticon slides for the Minneapolis public library, which is valued very highly by that institution, and it was from this collection that the slides were taken for showing in Brainerd.

Next week the scout executive of St. Paul will address the class, bringing an important message to every man in the city, and it is hoped that there will be a large number turn out to meet him.

HORSE SENSE NEEDED IN ATHLETICS

—H. L. Farrell

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Feb. 13.—Nothing is more practical than the application of good, old fashioned horse sense to correct the fancied or actual ills that are found occasionally or often in various lines of sport.

Much is heard of the sad fate that is awaiting for football just around the corner if that immensely popular sport does not follow different paths.

Sage professors, heavy thinking grads, and serious minded reformers think that by legislation and by conference forms of agreement, any leaning toward professionalism can be curbed and that pure standards of ethics can be maintained.

It is a well known fact that if there is a will to get around rules, the most drastic and the tightest code of morals and ethics can be cheated. No set of rules, on the other hand, need be applied when there is a will to do the right thing.

This point was well illustrated recently. Charley Moran, for many years coach of football at Centre College, resigned and accepted a position in the same capacity at Bucknell.

Several of the Centre stars decided that they would go along with Moran and enter Bucknell. Centre didn't like the idea, of course, and the purists cast some reflection on football in general.

Legally and ethically, nothing could stop those young men from transferring along with their former coach. As long as they complied with the eligibility rules as they are applied to period of residence and conformation with scholastic requirements they were eligible candidates.

Moran stopped it, however, by telling the players that he could not stop them from the pursuit of knowledge at Bucknell, but he could prevent them from the exercise of their athletic ability and while they might be accepted as occupants of chairs in the lecture halls, they would not be allowed to play for him on the football field.

The young men decided to remain at Centre.

Mendelsohn-Pal Moran Mix Sought for Feb. 28

Milwaukee, Feb. 13.—Efforts are being made to bring Pal Moran, New Orleans lightweight, who was recently defeated by Johnny Dundee here, for a match with Johnny Mendelsohn, local lightweight. The proposed match is tentatively dated for Feb. 28.

Moran and Mendelsohn met here early in the season and the local boy lost a newspaper decision.

If Mendelsohn wins his start against Joe Tiplitz in the semiwind-up of the card for next Monday, which brings Lew Tendler and Pinky Mitchell together in the feature event, promoters believe they will have little difficulty in signing Moran.

LOUISVILLE HOPES TO PRODUCE WINNER FOR KENTUCKY DERBY

Louisville, Feb. 8.—For the first time in several years resident racing enthusiasts are encouraged by prospects that Louisville may provide the winner for the Kentucky derby.

In the stable of John Ward at Churchill Downs are two three year olds, which, in the opinion of many observers here, must be reckoned as formidable as any pair that could be named for the classic. Wise Counsellor and Worthmore on racing form shown as two year olds and present appearance are declared to be on a par with the best.

Both colts have filled out considerably since last year and are wintering excellently, while daily gallops have kept them in ideal shape to begin serious training when warm weather comes.

Greb Plans Double Title Fight With Mike McTigue

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—Harry Greb, middleweight champion boxer visiting here, said negotiations virtually were complete for him to meet Mike McTigue, who claims the title of light heavyweight champion of the world in New York, soon.

"My plan," said Greb, "is to have a double championship match, McTigue entering the ring at 160, while I would have the right to appear at catchweight. That would make McTigue eligible to win the middle weight title and have a chance to take the lightweight belt."

Greb has signed to meet Jack Reeves of San Francisco in a four round bout at Oakland. The boxers will fight at catchweights.

Careless Bird

A Young Englishman in the Highlands was on the moors. He was proving to be such a poor hand with the gun that Dougal, the attendant gillie, grew more and more disgusted. In the end, however, the sportsman managed to bring a bird down. He looked round triumphantly.

"Well, I killed that one, anyhow," he remarked.

Dougal grunted. "Serves it right," he said, "for getting in the way of your shot."—Tit-Bits.

Big Ten Baseball Teams Start Indoor Workouts

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Spring practice for Big Ten baseball squads is getting under way this week indoors, as a number of the universities undertake to get their teams in shape for spring tours of the south.

Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois are planning games with southern colleges before the conference season opens.

Limbering up practices and field work, with pitchers getting their twirling arms in shape will take up the first part of the indoor training period. Several strong conference teams are looked for.

Your Optic Camera

When you look through a magnifying glass or a telescope you must focus it by moving it around in some way. This is done so that the lens in the instrument will give a clear, distinct image.

The most wonderful lens in the world, the lens of the human eye, has a different method of conveying sharp images to you. This lens, instead of moving back and forth, gets fatter and slimmer in order to make the image clear.

When the lens catches the image it is flashed through to a sort of screen in the retina of the eye and it touches a lot of nerve ends. The lens in the eye actually turns the picture of objects upside down when it throws them on the screen of the retina. The image is also very tiny. The brain turns things right side up again and gives them their true size, which we see. If either the eye or the brain gets diseased, people see many strange objects which actually do not exist. The whole eye is built very much like a camera, only it is a better piece of machinery than the finest camera ever made.

Hawaiian Customs

Many of the old Hawaiian customs are being discarded; but surf-riding and surf-canoeing are as popular today as ever they were.

Hawaiian serenaders often wander down the beaches and street, playing and singing in the inimitable Hawaiian way. Tlleaving, or tobogganning down grassy slopes on slick leaves is another thoroughly Hawaiian custom. Lanas, or Hawaiian feasts; and hukilau, or pulling in the great fish nets, are often arranged for the edification of the visitors.

No prettier or more touching custom may be witnessed than that of placing leis, or wreaths of flowers, around the necks of arriving or departing relatives or friends.

These are practically the only distinctly Hawaiian customs remaining in general use today.—F. M. Halton in Adventure Magazine.

BRAINERD HIGH TEAMS WIN BOTH BASKETBALL GAMES

FIRST TEAM DEFEATS STAPLES HIGH, 28 TO 11 LAST NIGHT

SECOND TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER STAPLES SECOND TEAM, 22 TO 15

Playing whirlwind basketball, the Brainerd high school basket ball team defeated Staples five by a score of 28 to 11. The game was fast throughout and Brainerd managed to get an early lead and kept it throughout the game. Smith of Bemidji refereed a wonderful game. Zakariassen and W. Engbretson shared the scoring honors of the night, each scoring six field goals. The team as a whole played great basketball and their team work was great. Staples was outclassed in every department of the game.

Brainerd started out with the tip-off and after several minutes of fast playing, registered the first field goal by Zakariassen. Shortly after, Wally scored a field goal and then Staples came back with two free throws and the quarter ended with the score 4 to 2.

The second quarter both teams fought on even terms, while at the closing of the half Wally scored another goal and Staples another free throw. The half ended with the score 6 to 3 in Brainerd's favor.

In the third stanza Brainerd came back strong and scored at will. Both Engbretson and Zakariassen took scoring honors in this quarter.

The fourth quarter was the same, with Staples making a desperate effort to score. As the game drew near to a close Staples shot three field goals and threw a scare into the crowd. The game ended with the score 28 to 11 with the Brainerd five on the long end.

Brainerd Seconds Victorious Too

The Brainerd seconds romped off with a victory over the Staples' seconds by a score of 22 to 15.

The Brainerd five was fast and their team work was great and made good every break of the game.

Staples scored first on a free throw and shortly after Opsahl scored a field goal and from then on kept the lead. Fouls were called frequently on both sides, Opsahl being ruled out on four personals.

The second team played their opponents off their feet, then out, and sure has developed since the last game played by them.

Opsahl, Whitlock and Hagberg stand in the scoring column of the evening, while to Brown and DeRoche goes the credit of great guarding that stopped many a field goal.

TELLS RHEUMATICS TO BEGIN ON SALTS

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.—Adv.t.

In the stable of John Ward at Churchill Downs are two three year olds, which, in the opinion of many observers here, must be reckoned as formidable as any pair that could be named for the classic. Wise Counsellor and Worthmore on racing form shown as two year olds and present appearance are declared to be on a par with the best.

Both colts have filled out considerably since last year and are wintering excellently, while daily gallops have kept them in ideal shape to begin serious training when warm weather comes.

Greb Plans Double Title Fight With Mike McTigue

San Francisco, Feb. 13.—Harry Greb, middleweight champion boxer visiting here, said negotiations virtually were complete for him to meet Mike McTigue, who claims the title of light heavyweight champion of the world in New York, soon.

"My plan," said Greb, "is to have a double championship match, McTigue entering the ring at 160, while I would have the right to appear at catchweight. That would make McTigue eligible to win the middle weight title and have a chance to take the lightweight belt."

Greb has signed to meet Jack Reeves of San Francisco in a four round bout at Oakland. The boxers will fight at catchweights.

Careless Bird

A Young Englishman in the Highlands was on the moors. He was proving to be such a poor hand with the gun that Dougal, the attendant gillie, grew more and more disgusted. In the end, however, the sportsman managed to bring a bird down. He looked round triumphantly.

"Well, I killed that one, anyhow," he remarked.

Dougal grunted. "Serves it right," he said, "for getting in the way of your shot."—Tit-Bits.

Big Ten Baseball Teams Start Indoor Workouts

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Spring practice for Big Ten baseball squads is getting under way this week indoors, as a number of the universities undertake to get their teams in shape for spring tours of the south.

Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois are planning games with southern colleges before the conference season opens.

Limbering up practices and field work, with pitchers getting their twirling arms in shape will take up the first part of the indoor training period. Several strong conference teams are looked for.

Your Optic Camera

When you look through a magnifying glass or a telescope you must focus it by moving it around in some way. This is done so that the lens in the instrument will give a clear, distinct image.

The most wonderful lens in the world, the lens of the human eye, has a different method of conveying sharp images to you. This lens, instead of moving back and forth, gets fatter and slimmer in order to make the image clear.

When the lens catches the image it is flashed through to a sort of screen in the retina of the eye and it touches a lot of nerve ends. The lens in the eye actually turns the picture of objects upside down when it throws them on the screen of the retina. The image is also very tiny. The brain turns things right side up again and gives them their true size, which we see, if either the eye or the brain gets diseased, people see many strange objects which actually do not exist. The whole eye is built very much like a camera, only it is a better piece of machinery than the finest camera ever made.

Hawaiian Customs

Many of the old Hawaiian customs are being discarded; but surfing and surf-canoeing are as popular today as ever they were.

Hawaiian seamen often wander down the beaches and street, playing and singing in the inimitable Hawaiian way. Tiltleaving, or tobogganning down grassy slopes on slick leaves is another thoroughly Hawaiian custom. Lulus, or Hawaiian feasts; and hula, or pulling in the great fish nets, are often arranged for the edification of the visitors.

No prettier or more touching custom may be witnessed than that of placing leis, or wreaths of flowers, around the necks of arriving or departing relatives or friends.

These are practically the only distinctly Hawaiian customs remaining in general use today.—F. M. Halton in Adventure Magazine.

BRAINERD HIGH TEAMS WIN BOTH BASKETBALL GAMES

FIRST TEAM DEFEATS STAPLES HIGH, 28 TO 11 LAST NIGHT

SECOND TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER STAPLES SECOND TEAM, 22 TO 15

Playing whirlwind basketball, the Brainerd high school basketball team defeated Staples five by a score of 28 to 11. The game was fast throughout and Brainerd managed to get an early lead and kept it throughout the game. Smith of Bemidji refereed a wonderful game. Zakariassen and W. Engbretson shared the scoring honors of the night, each scoring six field goals. The team as a whole played great basketball and their team work was great. Staples was outclassed in every department of the game.

Brainerd started out with the tip-off and after several minutes of fast playing, registered the first field goal by Zakariassen. Shortly after, Wally scored a field goal and then Staples came back with two free throws and the quarter ended with the score 4 to 2.

The second quarter both teams fought on even terms, while at the closing of the half Wally scored another goal and Staples another free throw. The half ended with the score 6 to 3 in Brainerd's favor.

In the third stanza Brainerd came back strong and scored at will. Both Engbretson and Zakariassen took scoring honors in this quarter.

The fourth quarter was the same, with Staples making a desperate effort to score. As the game drew near to a close Staples shot three field goals and threw a scare into the crowd. The game ended with the score 28 to 11 with the Brainerd five on the long end.

Brainerd Seconds Victorious Too
The Brainerd seconds romped off with a victory over the Staples' seconds by a score of 22 to 15.

The Brainerd five was fast and their team work was great and made good every break of the game.

Staples scored first on a free throw and shortly after Opsahl scored a field goal and from then on kept the lead. Fouls were called frequently on both sides, Opsahl being ruled out on four personals.

The second team played their opponents off their feet, then out, and sure has developed since the last game played by them.

Opsahl, Whitlock and Hagberg stand in the scoring column of the evening, while to Brown and DeRocher goes the credit of great guarding that stopped many a field goal.

Made a Hit With Him

"My wife has taken your medicine and has been wonderfully benefited. For over four years she has had trouble with bloating and could scarcely eat any food because of this condition. Doctor's medicines did not help her and an operation was advised. Her brother, who is a druggist, sent her a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and it helped her at once. I cannot praise your medicine enough." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

TELLS RHEUMATICS TO BEGIN ON SALTS

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.—Adv.t.

Such popularity must be deserved

POPULARITY isn't luck—there is no royal road to the spotlight. Popularity, today, means "delivering the goods!"

Last year broke all records for the number of Chesterfields smoked. Why? Because Chesterfields make good! There are loads of ordinary cigarettes—smokers want something better!

Better quality—proved by better taste—that's why men are turning by thousands from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.
